MANNA BREAD OF ISRAELITES

Discovered by Hungarian Scientist After Experiments.

NEW FOOD MEANS MUCH TO RUSSIANS

Soy Bean Is Basis of the Bread. American Representative Makes Investigation.

London, Sept. 29.—The "perfect" food which resembles in all round quality the biblical manna with which the Israelites were miraculously fed on their journey through the wilderness, has just been discovered by Dr. Laszlo Berezeller, a Hungarian scientist, after a series of experiments extending over eight years, according to a statement by the scientist printed in the London Times, yesterday.

The American high commissioner at Budapest and the British minister are investigating the new food and are expected to report to their governments upon it.

The base of the new food is the soy bean, which is largely grown in China and Japan for food purposes. Through the new process of Dr. Berezeller, properties of bread, flour and milk can be extracted from the beans. From the test made the soy bean will prove the cheapest in the world.

Dr. Berezeller believes the new food is the chief hope of saving Russia, due to its cheapness, its compactness and the concentrated strength.

Manna bread can be made for one-sixth the cost of wheat bread and the finished article will contain forty per cent. proteid and twenty per cent. fat. The bread is described as palatable and easily digested.

Dr. Berezeller says that manna bread eaten with green vegetables will make the "perfect meal," both from the standpoint of nutrition and economy. Tubercular children thrive on manna bread and green vegetables and Dr Berezeller said that children with whom he had experimented gained from 4 1-4 pounds to twenty-five pounds and improved generally.

During the course of his long experiments, Dr. Berezeller received assistance from the Austrian and Hungarian governments.

ARBUCKLE IS GIVEN LIBERTY

Released Under Bond by Court Decision.

MUST STAND TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Accused Plans To Return to Los Angeles Without Delay—Prosecutor Comments on Case.

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, free today after eighteen days' imprisonment and happy in the knowledge that he will not be forced to stand trial for murder as a result of the death of Virginia Rappe, film actress, prepared to return to Los Angeles.

Almost mobbed by scores of women who desired to shake hands and shower congratulations on him following announcement of Judge Lazarus' decision late yesterday, which held the comedian for manslaughter, but dismissed the murder charge demanded by District Attorney Brady, Arbuckle last night sought seclusion. From the city jail, following his release on bail, two hours after Judge Lazarus had dismissed the murder charge, Arbuckle went by automobile to the home of his brother, A. C. Arbuckle, for dinner.

From there he disappeared from public view. Frank Dominguez, his chief counsel, announced that Arbuckle would leave for Los Angeles tonight.

"Thanks. I'm glad it's over for a time at least," was the extent of the film funmaker's comment on the decision of the court which he received perhaps more calmly than any one else in the court-room. But his mazing smile reappeared to express his feelings.

District Attorney Brady has thirty days in which to file the information based on the finding of Judge Lazarus yesterday. He has announced that he will proceed on the police court holding rather than the grand jury indictment, which will be permitted to die. After the filing of the information, Arbuckle will appear to enter his plea, after which a date for the trial will be set.

"Trial within sixty days," seemed to be the consensus of opinion of attorneys on both sides today.

The decision of Judge Lazarus was a bitter disappointment to District Attorney Brady and his staff.

Prosecution Puzzled.

"This action of Judge Lazarus in holding the defendant to answer on a charge of manslaughter is wholly mystifying," said a statement issued by Brady. "The very fact that he has held the defendant to answer on a charge of manslaughter is a demonstration that he should have been held on a charge of murder.

"In America I had supposed there was one law for all. I am now told that there is one law for the 'important' defendant in an important case and another law for a 'trivial' defendant in a trivial case. Reduced to its final analysis, a case becomes important or trivial as the defendant is important or trivial. If Roscoe Arbuckle were unknown and unimportant, he would have been held for murder and treated precisely as were the defendants of recent dispute."

However, the decision of Judge Lazarus seemed well received, especially among the women who sat throughout the hearing. While many of their number were congratulating Arbuckle, other scores were thanking and congratulating Judge Lazarus, whose masterly summing up of the case won the admiration of all.

"Now, remember, gentlemen," said the judge in closing, "that murder is the most serious crime known to the criminal law. The question for me to decide is whether, under the facts adduced by the prosecution here, I am justified in accepting the responsibility of sending this man to the superior court for trial on the grievous charge of murder.

"And my conclusion is, counsel, that under the circumstances I have no such justification."

Gets Liberty.

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—Roscoe C. "Fatty" Arbuckle was released from the city prison here last night on $5,000 each bail.

A few hours before he was held to answer to the supreme court on a charge of manslaughter.

Judge Sylvain J. Lazarus took this action despite the fact that the hearing before him was brought about by a warrant sworn to by Mrs. B. M. Delmont charging Arbuckle with murder.

By the California penal code it lies within the discretion of the committing magistrate to hold a man to answer for whatever crime in view of the court is indicated by the evidence presented. Judge Lazarus said he did not believe the evidence presented by Assistant District Attorney Matthew A. Brady and his assistants warranted a trial of Arbuckle for murder.

Says Evidence Was Lacking.

In other words he says no evidence has been introduced to show that Arbuckle had committed a felony, to wit, attempted attack. The murder theory had hinged on the legal point that the death of Virginia Rappe had resulted from the commission of such felony. Unless the felony charge was established the murder charge could not stand.

Arbuckle, as soon as Judge Lazarus had announced his decision, stood under two separate charges of manslaughter—the police court charge and the indictment two weeks ago by the grand jury.

District Attorney Brady immediately set about having the indictment dismissed, stating that he preferred that Arbuckle go to trial on the warrant and police court charge.

The reason for this, it was said, was to avoid the bringing of a demurrer against the indictment by the defense attorneys, and the consequent delay. Unless the indictment is dismissed it obviously would take precedence over a police court commitment in the eyes of the superior court.

"Without malice aforethought" is the phrase that distinguished manslaughter from a murder charge. The penalty for manslaughter in this state is an indeterminate sentence of one to ten years if the jury finds a verdict of guilty.

Release Sought Immediately.

The defense attorneys immediately sought to have Arbuckle released on bail.

District Attorney Brady, after the decision, moved that Arbuckle be set free on his own recognizance. Judge Lazarus stated that bail would be necessary, and fixed the amount at $5,000 cash or $10,000 bond.

Open criticism of the conduct of the district attorney and his staff for not producing before Judge Lazarus all evidence at their disposal was voiced by the court and by the committee of club women which has been watching the proceedings.

"The district attorney's office has thrown us down," declared the women. "Why didn't he produce all his witnesses?"

Ira Fortlouis and Fred Fishbeck were in the court-room ready to testify. They were not called. Neither was Mrs. B. M. Delmont, the complaining witness.

SIAM IS AGAINST WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

First To Respond for Drive in League-of-Nations Assembly.

Geneva, Sept. 29.—A new world-wide fight against the so-called white slave traffic opened here yesterday. The league-of-nations assembly adopted the draft of a convention framed by the recent international conference called to devise means of combating the evil.

The assembly issued a call for the member nations of the league to sign the convention and the first to respond was Siam.

The convention pledges all nations to most drastic regulation of white slavery.

ROOSEVELT RAPS WAR DEPARTMENT

In Spanish-War Diary Presented to Association.

New York, Sept 29.—A terse history of the Spanish-American war as seen through the eyes of one of its most famous participants came to light when Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt presented the former president's war diary to the Roosevelt Memorial association.

The diary is a record of experiences and impressions made up of laconic entries, some historical, some critical. Shafts of characteristic pointedness were aimed at the "stupidity of the ordnance department," while the colonel recorded the belief that in the war department there was "no management at all." The diary is a small pocket volume and contained notes in pencil and ink. No part of it has been published before.

MEXICAN VOLCANO NOW IN ERUPTION

People Flee from Vicinity of the Dreaded Popocatepetl.

Mexico City, Sept. 29.—Popocatepetl, the great volcanic mountain southeast of this city, is reported to be in more vigorous activity than usual. The inhabitants of the villages of Amecameca and Tlamacas, at the base of the mountain, are leaving their homes, fearing a serious eruption. Two outbreaks have occurred during the past 10 days and reports reaching this city state there has been a considerable flow of lava from the crater of the volcano. For the past year or more Popocatepetl has been showing signs of becoming active after a long period of quiescence.

A REBELLION IN YUCATAN REPORTED

Rebels Under Leadership of General Salvador Alvaredo.

Mexico City, Sept. 29.—A rebellion in Yucatan reported to be headed by General Salvador Alvarado, former secretary of the treasury, was under way today.

General Alvarado left here recently to enter the field for election as governor of Yucatan.

The revolution is reported to be spreading to the adjoining state of Campeche.

Several have been killed in combats between Alvarado's forces and those supporting President Obregon.

INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED BY JURY

Three Are Held for Murder in Franklin County.

Columbus, Sept. 29.—Three first degree murder counts are included among the 150 indictments returned yesterday, against 142 persons by the Franklin county grand jury, concluding a thirteen-day session. This breaks the record for the number of indictments returned by a Franklin county grand jury.

Arraignment of those indicted is scheduled for Saturday morning.

The jurors failed to indict Katherine Gallagher, wife of Patrolman Thomas C. Gallagher. Mrs. Gallagher is said to have shot her husband last March with his gun when she discovered him with another woman.

Those indicted on murder charges are: Henry Nitzsche, alleged slayer of Conductor Russell Crute, September 9; William Harris, charged with killing Alvin J. Thompson, aged oil-station employe, August 5 and James Cornwell, colored, accused of killing Amanda Paxton and Georgia Watson, last April.

Two manslaughter charges were returned against John B. Anawalt, accused of causing the deaths of Donald McCurry and Helen Winkelhausen, last April, when his automobile hit the west wall of the Fourth street viaduct.

An indictment alleging an illegal operation was performed on Miss Irene Luchshaw, resulting in her death at Grant hospital here, was returned against Dr. James H. Carroll, colored.

MANY CHANGES URGED BY COLONEL FORBES

Talks of Care of Disabled Veterans of World War.

Washington, Sept. 29. — Director Forbes of the veterans' bureau will submit to the president a comprehensive report covering the country-wide condition of the government's system of hospitalization and vocational training for former service men.

The report will contain recommendations for many changes in the present plan of dealing with the veterans, based on conclusions reached by Colonel Forbes after inspection of practically all offices of the bureau. The colonel declared he wanted to "close a lot of contract hospitals" at the earliest date possible. All disabled service men being cared for in private schools and contract hospitals are to be placed in government hospitals he added, just as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

Conditions in both hospitalization and vocational training services were not all that he could desire, he said, adding, however, that progress had been made and that "sore spots" gradually would be eliminated.

KU KLUX KLAN ASKS FOR PROBE

Thorough Investigation by Government Is Welcomed.

Atlanta, Sept. 29.—Letters have been sent to President Harding and Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty by William Joseph Simmons, head of the Ku Klux Klan, requesting an immediate and thorough investigation by the government into the activities of the organization, according to a statement issued at Klan headquarters here yesterday.

Both letters were signed by Mr. Simmons, it was stated, but were given out by other officials of the Klan. It was stated that Mr. Simmons was ill of tonsilitis, and no action had been taken on the demand of E. Y. Clarke, Imperial Kleagle of the order, to be relieved of his office.

In his letter to the president, Mr. Simmons declared the klan would welcome a sweeping investigation by the government into all its activities throughout the country, while in the letter to the attorney-general he said all records, books and files of the "invisible empire" would be at the government's disposal.

AID FOR JOBLESS IN ENGLAND SOUGHT

British Cabinet Members Discuss Labor Situation.

London, Sept. 29.—Various proposals for relieving the unemployment situation in Great Britain were discussed by a committee of the British cabinet. A plan to revive home and export trade by the extension of credits was one of the matters taken up by the committee.

Unofficial reports assert that antagonism has developed between certain departments of the government and the representatives of the treasury, who are striving to cut down expenses. Prime Minister Lloyd George, who has been devoting much time to the problem, favors relief undertakings of considerable magnitude, but he recently told Labor'te mayors who interviewed him that he could not agree to a plan which would place the whole burden on the state. He added he did not know where to look for more taxes. He said there were 1,200,000 idle men in Great Britain.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Hi-Y boys, Wednesday evening, in the Y. M. C. A. building. A feed was enjoyed before the meeting.

RED RUSSIANS SEE DANGER

A Warning Is Issued by Third Internationale.

DECLARES THE WORLD REVOLUTION IS MENACED

Soviet Says Concessions to Western Capital and Burgeois America Have Been Forced.

London, Sept. 29.—What purports to be another warning issued at Moscow by the Third Internationale has reached a number of the European capitals. It is signed with the name of the president of the International and eight of its members, including Karl Radek and Bela Kun.

The document, which is addressed to "Our World Comrades," warns them to be on guard. It describes the Russian soviet government at the present moment as being "between the hammer and the anvil," and says the danger threatening soviet Russia threatening "the entire world revolution."

"Soviet Russia, which, up to the present, refused to enter into any compromise with western capital, and, on the contrary, forced western capital to yield," says the document, "now is compelled by force of circumstances to modify its previous tactics and consent to a series of concessions to the kings of world capital, representatives of bourgeois America, and also the representatives of European capital. • • •

"The Russia of workers is on the brink of disaster and ruin. Famine grips the throat of the exhausted nation, and the soviet had no alternative but to yield on the question of certain details in order to provide bread for the dying.

"The critical situation in which the soviet finds itself is the result of an unheard state of collapse, which has penetrated all sections of the soviet economic system.

"The soviet, in order to save and preserve its forces for future generations, has consented to satisfy all demands made by the representatives of capitalism."

The document says the Riga agreement undoubtedly is dangerous for the soviet and "there is no doubt that together with the American charity relief organization, alien elements will also penetrate Soviet Russia in order to demoralize the organized masses of workers and organize all the dissatisfied elements among former bouregoisie and profiteers."

The third Internationale, says the document has renounced direct action until the soviet copes with its difficulties, but this "does not mean renunciation of our organization or discontinuation of the work to which the workers have given their best forces."

"The Third Internationale," the document declares, "has made all the concessions it could make, but it will not yield another inch. Disorganized ranks of the proletariat must be reorganized and brought into complete order during the armistice."

Makes a Gift.

Dayton, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Clement Rossman Gilmore, of Columbus, has given $1,000 to the Dayton public library to be used in the purchase of books as a memorial to her late husband, who was a member of the library board.

High Tax Rate.

Cleveland, Sept. 29.—A tax rate of $2.49, the highest since 1910, when the Smith so-called one-per-cent. tax law became operative, was today approved by the county budget commission for the city of Cleveland.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN BRUMBAUGH DIES

Death Comes to Columbus Man After Long Illness.

Columbus, Sept. 29.—Bright's disease and hardening of the arteries caused the death here of former Congressman Clement Brumbaugh, 65 years old. His condition was rendered more critical by a recent attack of ptomaine poisoning.

First elected in 1912, Congressman Brumbaugh served four terms in congress. He had not been well during the past four years and assigned his physical condition as the reason for refusing to run for a fifth term from this district.

Born on a farm near Greenville, he graduated from the National Normal university at Lebanon. After serving six years as superintendent of schools at Granville, he was admitted to practice law in 1900. He served two terms as state representative from Darke county and was minority floor leader during his second term. He was assistant state superintendent of insurance under former Governor Harmon.

Funeral services will probably be held at Greenville Saturday. Survivors include a widow, a brother, William D. Brumbaugh and a sister, Mrs. Jennie Stevens, both of Greenville.

CONFERENCE IS TO MEET FRIDAY

To Begin Discussion of Relief Program.

COMMITTEES ARE MAKING PROGRESS

Conference Able To Get Down to Real Business Five Days Earlier Than Expected.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The national conference on unemployment will begin consideration of a general emergency relief program Friday, five days earlier than had originally been planned.

This is due to the rapid progress made by committees in formulating recommendations.

In addition to report of the manufacturers' committee, upon which agreement has been announced, recommendation on emergency measures will be reported Friday by the committees on unemployment statistics, employment agencies and registration, emergency public works and construction. Other reports will be considered as completed, it was said.

Announcement of the formation of a new committee on community, civic and emergency relief measures, to recommend the best forms of community organizations to carry out the recommendations for decreasing unemployment, was made by the conference.

The suggestion, it is understood, also has been made that local committees should be formed in the cities and different sections of the country to administer the recommendations adopted by the conference.

CENTENNIAL WEEK AT BUCYRUS AND HISTORY

Resume of Historical Features Incident to Celebration.

CRAWFORD COUNTY SEAT PLANS BIG CELEBRATION

Affair Will Open Sunday with Appropriate Services in All of the Churches.

October 17, 1817, by a treaty with the Indians, principally the Wyandotts, all of northern Ohio, comprising what is now twenty counties, was ceded to the United States, and in 1818 and 1819 it was surveyed by Sylvester Bourne and in 1820 was placed on sale. This territory was known as the "New Purchase," and before it was placed on the market settlers came to the new country selecting their land. One of these was Samuel Norton and family, with his brother-in-law Abigene Bucklin and family, a party of eighteen who arrived at Bucyrus October 17, 1819, and Norton erected his cabin on the banks of the Sandusky on what is now the Main street of Bucyrus. The Bucklin cabin was a few rods east, also on the banks of the Sandusky, in the present city. Here they spent their first winter and on February 11, 1919, was born the first white child in this territory after it was open for settlement. Sophronia Norton, daughter of Samuel and Mary Norton.

Marion in It.

February 12, 1820, the legislature passed an act, erecting fourteen counties out of this territory, Allen, Crawford, Hancock, Hardin, Henry, Marion, Mercer Paulding Putnam, Sandusky, Seneca, Williams, Van Wert and Wood. Later six other counties were formed from these counties Lucas, June 2, 1835; Ottawa, March 6, 1840; Wyandot, February 3, 1845; Defiance, March 4, 1845; Auglaize, February 14, 1848; Fulton, February 20, 1850. In 1930 these counties had a population of 24,219, and as an indication of how our settlements drifted from the east towards the west, 19,335 of these were in the four eastern counties that had been opened for settlement, Sandusky, Seneca, Crawford and Marion. In 1840 the population was 120,086, about half being in the four eastern counties.

October 4, 1921.

It was on October 4, 1821, that President Monroe signed the patent deed conveying to Samuel Norton the land on which the original village of Bucyrus was located. Colonel James Kilbourne, of Worthington, had laid out a road from Franklinton—Columbus — to Portland—Sandusky passing through the extreme western territory of the land secured from the Indians by the Greenville treaty of 1805. As soon as the new land was opened he surveyed a new road, almost an air line from Columbus to the lake, which later became the Columbus and Sandusky turnpike and is now the Scioto trail. For the building of this road, congress donated forty-nine sections of land amounting to 31,360 acres of land in Marion, Crawford and Seneca counties. This turnpike ran through the Norton land and on November 4, 1821, Colonel Kilbourne and Samuel Norton signed a contract to lay out the town of Bucyrus on this land.

This was the start of Bucyrus, the first town laid out in the twenty counties of northwestern Ohio by the pioneers. And this is why on October 4, Bucyrus is holding a centennial celebration. The exercises will commence on Sunday morning, October 2, by Sunday services at all the churches in the morning and a union service on Sunday evening.

'Twill Be Some Day.

Monday morning there will be a celebration commemorating the completion of a brick road through the county from east to west, the last brick to be laid by Governor Davis. This celebration includes a tour over the road from Oceola in the western part of the county to Galion in the eastern, all the automobiles being handsomely decorated. Besides the governor, State Highway Commissioner Herrick, will also be present. In the afternoon and evening will be historical addresses. Tuesday morning opens with a hundred guns at sunrise followed later by the historical and pioneer pageant of a hundred duets, one of the scenes being the signing of the contract, lineal descendents of Norton and Kilbourne representing their ancestors.

At Norton Grave.

At noon exercises will be held at the grave of Samuel Norton, the first settler, and near him Hon. Seth Holmes, in an unmarked grave, a soldier of the war of 1812, who came with the Nortons and guided him to this site, he having passed through here in 1812. A large boulder has been placed in position and a brass tablet appropriately inscribed will be dedicated. In the afternoon and evening more historical addresses. From 4:30 to 6 on Tuesday, there will be a reception with light refreshments for the old pioneers of the county. Wednesday will be devoted to amusements, the old sports of our ancestors and a modern base ball tournament both morning and afternoon. In the evening there will be a pioneer dance on the public square, the dancers appearing in the pioneer costumes of a century ago, and in Indiana costume. There will also be costume dances by the school children, representing the folk dance of various nations, together with a parade made up of those costumed for the dance and for the pageant, which will number several hundred.

Expert Decorator.

The decoration committee has arranged for an expert decorator to take charge of the decorations of the streets of the original town of Bucyrus. Already citizens have commenced the work and hundreds of centennial pennants are in the windows and the coming week bids fair to see practically every one busy making their places as attractive as possible for the occasion.

Senator Atlee Pomerene, ex-chief Justice Nichols, Justice Benson W. Hough, Grand Commander M. J. Cloan of the G. A. R., Rev. H. W. Kellogg, chaplain of the Ohio Intermediate at Mansfield, a representative of the Norton and Kilbourne families; Smith W. Bennett, Nevin O. Winter, the historian of the Northwest university; Secretary Galbreath of the Ohio Historical society, W. C. McCullough, of Cleveland, a pioneer descendant and John E. Hopley, who wrote a history of Crawford county some years ago, are among the speakers.

The leading musicians of Bucyrus have formed a choral society and are rehearsing special songs for the occasion, together with a musical evening on Thursday. Among the old songs given will be the "Song of Bucyrus" which was written by Col. Kilbourne, and first sung by him at the lot sale in 1821 when about sixty lots were sold at prices ranging from $20 to $60. The first and last verses are as follows:

Ye men of spirit, ardent souls,
Whose hearts are firm and hands are strong,
Whom generous enterprise controls,
Attend and truth shall guide my song.

I'll tell you how Bucyrus now,
Just rising like the star of morn,
Surrounded stands by fertile lands
On clear Sandusky's rural bourn.

Then, here, my friend, your search shall end,
For here's a country to your mind;
And here's a town your hopes may crown,
As those who try it soon shall find.

Here fountains flow, mild zephyrs blow,
While health and pleasure smile each morn
For all around Bucyrus found
On fair Sandusky's rural bourn.

Save 1,592 Daily Steps with a Napanee Dutch Kitchenet

A Statement by Mr. Harrington Emerson

It is very clear from our scientific studies of the preparation of meals with and without a Napanee Dutch Kitchenet, that its economies are along three entirely distinct lines:

1—Saving of effort, fatigue elimination
2—Saving of time
3—Standardization of work

The saving of energy, shown by the large reduction in the number of steps, is very striking. By accurate quantitative measurement, three-quarters of this physical exertion is saved. It is reduced to one-quarter.

Harrington Emerson

Mr. H. H. Tice, of the Emerson Engineers, making the record of step watch and pedometer on the preparation of a meal

FREE

The story of the world's record for step and time and labor saving in kitchen work which the Napanee brings every housewife.

These tests of the Napanee's value were made under direction of Mr. Harrington Emerson, a foremost member of the Committee on Elimination of Waste in Industry, organized by Mr. Herbert Hoover.

The story of these tests is told in an important book, "Scientific Studies of Kitchen Work." Every woman should read it. Free on request.

Most Important Announcement Ever Made to Housewives!

Harrington Emerson, "Father of Efficiency Engineers," finds by scientific measurement, 2,113 steps taken in average kitchen every day in getting three simple meals. Proves 1,592 steps can be saved. Shows useless drudgery and terrible burden of fatigue housewives suffer. No one will now endure it longer.

A 10-Piece Aluminum Set FREE With Each Cabinet Sold During This Sale

For the next ten days we will demonstrate the amazing discoveries resulting from Mr. Emerson's scientific time and motion studies on the preparation of meals. They are of vast importance to all women.

Thousands of dollars were spent on these studies. Two famous domestic scientists were employed as counsellors. Stop watches were used to record the time of preparing each meal and of each individual operation in preparing it. Pedometers, which measure distance walked, were used to register every step taken.

349 Steps Saved on This Breakfast Alone!

Fruit	Biscuits
Scrambled Eggs	Coffee

This simple breakfast was prepared in an average kitchen, first without, and then with, a Napanee Dutch Kitchenet. Each operation in getting each meal was repeated by different operators to insure accuracy of result. It was found that in preparing and clearing away breakfast without a Napanee Kitchenet, 466 steps were taken.

That in preparing the same meal, by the same operators, in the same kitchen, with a Napanee only 117 steps were taken. 349 steps were saved! And the time was reduced 10 per cent. Good news for overworked women, this!

Supremely Important Results

By the same scientific procedure it was found that in preparing luncheon the steps saved by the Napanee actually totaled 509. And lunch was ready in 15 per cent less time. In preparing dinner 734 steps were saved! And 10 per cent of time!

In preparing the three meals without the Napanee 2,113 steps were taken, and only 521 in preparing the same meals in the same kitchen with the Napanee.

Thus 1,592 steps were saved—three-fourths of the total—by the use of the Napanee. No woman need spend another exhausting day in the kitchen.

A National Event

After these amazing discoveries no woman will end another day foot-sore and weary. None will endure the distressing fatigue of kitchen work any longer.

Napanee dealers all over the United States are now demonstrating to the women of America the enormous value to them of the Napanee. They are showing them how to save their health and strength. How to end fatigue dangers and distress.

Let us show you the more scientific design, the superior construction, the new and greater conveniences that give the Napanee its amazing value to you.

In justice to youself learn all the help the Napanee gives you. You will realize you cannot afford to be without a Napanee another day. Come and learn of these vital improvements in kitchen work which all the women of America are now learning.

It might be assumed from correspondence one sees reproduced in the papers at times that the conference for the limitation of armaments is to be a one-man job—but it will not be.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says that any good business man could reduce governmental expense. We take it that the Enquirer means, of course, that he could do it after he had installed in office aides of his own choosing, who had had time to become acquainted with the scope of the duties assigned them.

When a football season can be opened without even so much as a minor accident, it begins to look as though there may have been merit in the one-time contention that the game had been denatured.

We wonder if Senator Harrison will not eventually be brave enough to condemn the wanton extravagance of the president for taking two spoonsful of sugar in his coffee or suffering the sheets on his bed to be changed oftener than once a week.—Houston Post.

Apparently, Mr. Harrison has become tiresome, even to the papers of the South.

One of the Poorest Places to Look for a Job

WORK OF THE CONFERENCE.

President Harding let the unemployment conference know that he had called it into being to solve the problem laid before it in a practical manner, if such a thing be possible. He expects business-like consideration of what is in essence a purely business subject. Naturally he reminded the conference that "you are not asked to solve the long controverted problems of our social system," and declared against "any proposed relief which seeks either palliative or tonic from the public treasury." Introduce the one subject into the discussions and the whole project would end in a hurricane of disputation leading to nothing.

The character of the majority of those the president has called into council for the country's benefit is a guarantee against the schemes of impractical visionaries being permitted an airing in the conference, but it is a matter for public congratulation that President Harding himself declared against them. In the larger sense the president calls to all concerned throughout the land to reflect upon the implications of existing conditions. Reflection should yield definite conclusions. If they were acted upon we imagine a long step would be taken toward getting things started and keeping them going.

In the end it will be cooperation between those who might work and those who might provide employment. The conference will not get a job for anybody. We have hope that it will show how it may be possible for all, or nearly all, to have jobs. But the ultimate indispensable is willingness on the part of all to cooperate for individual and collective well-being through industry.

General Pershing's visit to France calls attention to the fact that one-time War Secretary Baker's two unidentified American soldiers buried in France have multiplied to 1,000. But let us be fair, Mr. Baker may have had the assistance of Mr. Creel's literary bureau in arriving at his figures.

GIRLS IN REBELLION.

Whatever the conclusions of the chronic compiler of statistics concerning the college woman and matrimony in America, in far-off Formosa the young woman of education is at a premium as a wife. But instead of feeling flattered that she commands a high price—from $750 to $1,000 in American money—the educated girls of Formosa are rebelling and demanding abolition of the custom of engagement money being paid to their parents for them.

But all Formosan women are not so advanced, some only protesting that the engagement price is too high and drives away many men who would make good husbands, but have not the price. Perhaps in time Formosa will become so far advanced as to turn the tables and men will demand a marriage portion from the parents to induce them to marry their daughters, as is done in France.

Meanwhile, the high cost of marriage in Formosa is doing one good thing in reducing the number of wives to one, since a man considers himself fortunate in being able to afford one wife instead of several, as was the case in the "good old" Formosan days.

A WISE POLICY.

A Washington paper, which is, of course, much interested in keeping up the local government payroll, protests against the dismissal of navy yard employes who are not needed. The argument is advanced that the government should keep its organization together for future use. That might be a sound argument if there were any probability of needing the men in the future, but since the navy department is returning to a peace basis and reducing the wartime scale of employment, there is no prospect whatever of future need of the surplus men. When taxpayers are groaning under the burden of taxes they can hardly raise the money to pay, it is utter folly to argue that the government should retain on its payrolls men it does not need. There is neither honesty nor sense in robbing Peter to pay Paul.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By Dr. James Ball Naylor.]

REAL TEACHERS.

Real teachers are born, not made.

I've said this many times before; but it will bear repetition. Of course, teachers, like all other persons successful in the various activities of life, must have due educational preparation and training. This goes without the saying, almost. Natural talent must be developed and cultivated. But the real poet must have the divine afflatus; the real artist must have the artistic instinct and urge; the real discoverer or inventor must have the natural faculties which lead him to be what he is; and the true teacher must have the native qualifications and love for teaching.

The late Washington Gladden, the distinguished Congregational minister of Columbus, in his book of "Recollections," pays the following tribute to one of his early teachers:

"His power of arousing and inspiring students, of appealing to all that was best in them, of making fine ideals of conduct attractive to them, was quite exceptional. He found me a listless and lazy pupil; he left me with a zest for study and a firm purpose of self-improvement. It was a clear case of conversion; and when any one tells me that character can not be changed through the operation of spiritual forces, I know better."

Blessed is he who in youth comes under the direct influence of a real teacher! I know. So pardon me for raking over the ashes of the past, for a few sparks of personal experience; I'm going to do it with the intention of starting a light from those sparks, which may illuminate the subject under consideration.

At the age of sixteen I was an uncultured and rather rude hobble-dehoy. My heredity and environment had made me what I was. I had no ambition to do or be anything worth while; all I particularly cared for was, as Mark Twain has said of one of his characters—"to keep up a revivin' state of devilment all the time." School, to me, was a place to have fun; that was all. I could learn, readily; but I wouldn't. My bark of life was drifting, drifting—urged by the wilful and wanton winds of boyhood—with no sensible soul at the tiller.

Then the man of whom I'm going to speak came aboard, and temporarily took the helm; and soon my bark was set upon a different course—a certain and definite course which promised to lead to some port of success.

He came to teach a four-months' term in the rural school. He didn't appear or seem like any other teacher I had known; and he wasn't. He dressed better; he used better and cleaner English. He was an indexible disciplinarian; but he inspired respect, confidence and love.

One day, near the end of the second week of the short term, he invited me to take a walk with him. To say I was surprised is putting it conventionally. Indeed; I was almost knocked off my feet. But I went with him. He led me, in silence, out to a nearby hilltop overlooking the neighboring valley and river. There he stood and pointed out the beauties of the scene to me. I wondered what was coming; but I wasn't left long in doubt. Soon he began to question and advise me—seriously, but sympathetically, understandingly.

That one conversation changed all my ideas and ideals; altered entirely the course of my life.

Real teachers are born—not made!

They're having church revivals in a business-like way up at Sidney, Nova Scotia. Commenting upon the progress made in erecting a new church building, the Sydney Post avers:

"A large part of the fishing material for the interior of the building is expected from Amherst this week."

Going to smoke for the sinful suckers and skates, eh? Wonder if they'll bait with church suppers?

LECTURE-RECITAL CLUB PLANS FOR A BUSY YEAR

Opening Program at Country Club-House October 10.

WILL BE COURTESY TO ASSOCIATE MEMBERS

Fine Program Arranged for the Year, Including Some Notable Out-of-Town Talent.

In contrast to the interesting study program of last year, it is announced that the Lecture-Recital club this year has a more elaborate arrangement, including three costume programs and three engaged artists from Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus. One program will be given by the members of the Galion Music club and the Matinee club at Zanesville.

The Lecture-Recital club will open its season the evening of October 10 as a courtesy to the associate members with a lovely program and reception at the Marion Country club-house, Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, club president, acting as hostess.

Mrs. L. C. Wogan has been named chairman of the automobiles committee and will arrange for the transportation of those members to the country club who are not owners of motor cars.

Ohio Day October 24.

"Ohio Day" will be celebrated October 24, when Samuel Richards Gaines, of Columbus, eminent director and composer, will direct the singing of three of his own compositions, "Roumanian Love Song," "Spring and Youth," and "Pretty Blushing Roses."

On November 14 a program of Russian, Spanish and French numbers will be given in costume.

November 28 a joint artists' recital by Irene J. Gardner, of Cincinnati, pianist of the Cincinnati College of Music, and Herman Rosen, of Cleveland, winner of the national violin award, will be given under the auspices of the Lecture-Recital club.

December 12, a Christmas program will be rendered at the Trinity Baptist church. Rolla Benner, of Evanston, Illinois, will appear on the program, making his initial bow to a Marion audience.

January 9 the club's annual business meeting will be held.

January 23, a "British Isles" program will be rendered in costume.

February 13 a Brahms program will be rendered. It will consist exclusively of Brahms' compositions.

February 27, there will be an "American costume" recital, followed March 13 with an "exchange" program with the Galion Music club.

March 27 there will be a song-recital, chorrally interpreted.

Junior High Auditorium.

All of the programs will be rendered by the club, or under the auspices of the club, at the Junior High school auditorium, formerly the High school building on west Center street, with the exception of the opening meeting, which will be at the Trinity Baptist church.

The club plans a busy year. It is expected that a junior club will be organized and a memory contest conducted. The club also plans to do some philanthropic work. To this end it is announced that members of the Musical-Recital club are always glad to use their talents for any worthy cause.

As Associate Members.

Husbands of members are eligible to become associate members.

The program committee is made up of Mrs. David Walter Evans, Mrs. George D. Kleinmaier, Miss Madge Lawrence and Mrs. Rae Anthony Hess.

Officers of Club.

Officers of the Lecture-Recital club, which, although a comparatively new organization, has already made its impress in Marion, are as follows:

Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, president; Mrs. E. A. Thiele, vice president; Miss Helen Zuck, recording secretary; Miss Grace Cooper, treasurer, and Mrs. Arthur H. Honefanger, librarian.

Various committee chairmen follow:

Mrs. Fred O'Mara, civic; Miss Hilda Joseph, art; Mrs. T. E. Reid, finance; Mrs. George Elliott McCormick, publicity; Mrs. Emma Voorhess, membership; Mrs. Harry J. Mautz, social; Mrs. George G. Kleinmaier, music; Mrs. George Gretzer, patroness; Mrs. W. D. Clark, health; Miss Grace Durfee, memorial; Mrs. W. N. Harder, legislative.

MUST BEAT OUIJA BOARD ALONG WITH THE GIANTS

Babe Ruth Says, If Yankees Win World Series.

SOMETHING "UNCANNY" ABOUT CLEVELAND GAME

But Ouija Boards Don't Win World Series Games, Crack Home-Run Getter Opines.

[BY BABE RUTH.]

New York, Sept. 29.—The Yankee fans have had enough to put them in the insane asylum these past six weeks. I don't want to aggravate the condition, although I fear the following will produce a lot of headaches. Regardless of our heartbreaking finish with Cleveland, "the inside dope" is as follows:

First—The Yankees will win the pennant. Second—The Yankees will lose the world's series to the Giants.

In order not to be misunderstood by Judge Landis or the public at large let me explain that by "inside dope" I mean that Ouija board. It happened last Sunday night. While I don't believe the prediction about the world series, let me put down one more prophecy that has already come true. We asked the Ouija board who would win the important final game of the recent Cleveland series and answer came "Whoever wins will win by one."

By One Run, Too.

As everybody knows, the game on Monday with the Indians was captured by one run after a nerve-racking battle. That part of the prediction worked all right, but Ouija boards don't count in world series. If we play the Giants we go up against a tough club, but there are none tougher than Cleveland, and certainly few so game as the present world champions.

I'm not near so undecided as to where the Yanks will stand after the world series as I am in figuring out where the New York fans will stand during the series. The 30,000 fans who cheered us to victory over Cleveland Monday screamed just as happily when the score board showed the Giants going ahead of the Cardinals in St. Louis.

There has never been any way of judging the relative popularity of the two New York clubs. Thousands of Manhattan fans go out to see the Yankees at the Polo grounds when the Giants are in the city. When the two clubs finally hook up an awful lot of the home folks are going to have to vote one way or the other.

I don't mind claiming the Yankees are the better club, but the fans will have to decide the question of popularity.

The Yankees have at least three big fence busters. They have the leading pitcher in the league besides the best young twirler in the majors.

Bob Meusel can electrify the bleachers with his throwing arm. Elmer Miller in center field works like Speaker in his prime and McNally is the best pinch third baseman of the season, but the boys on the Yankee club are not overlooking the old-time love of the fans for the Giants. We recognize in McGraw's 1921 outfit the same old fight and spirit that existed when Christy Mathewson ruled Manhattan.

Realize It All.

We realize how Frisch, the speculating New York kid, has captured the heart of the Metropolis and we admit that George Kelly is the greatest home-run hitter in the National league for many years.

"Irish" Meusel will bid for popular honors against his kid brother on the Yankees. He is the Giants best hitter and the rivalry of the Meusel family may do much to switch the fans one way or another.

Finally, the Yankees to a man recognize in John McGraw, the dean of world series pilots, and one of the gamest, most fearless strategist. He never quits.

But, admitting all of this, if the Yankees win that pennant we expect to beat both the Giants and the Ouija board. About the fans I'm not so sure.

FOSTORIA'S CLUB IS COMING BACK SUNDAY

It Will Play Off a Tie with Daily Stars.

The Fostoria baseball team, which has an even break in the four games played here this season, will be back Sunday to play off the tie. Fostoria is coming loaded with a view to defeating the locals and a fast game is promised. Fans will remember the two games played here Labor day and the one on the Sunday preceding.

Marion will probably be in better shape than last Sunday. Price will be in the game to strengthen the outfield and with Jackman going in form the locals expect to be able to defeat the loaded Fostoria aggregation. This will be the last game of the season with an out-of-town club. On the following Sunday, weather permitting, the local representative club will play the Commercial-Huber team.

THREE HURT WHEN AUTO IS PLUNGED INTO DITCH

Collarbones of Two McCardle Children Are Broken.

ROBERT ATKINSON IS ALSO INJURED SLIGHTLY

D. B. McCardle, Captain of Salvation Army, Has an Accident.

Carrie and J. B. McCardle, children of Captain and Mrs. D. B. McCardle, No. 297 Silver street, had their collarbones broken on the right side about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, when the car in which they were riding with their father, sister Stella, and Robert Atkinson, of Uhler avenue, went into the ditch two miles east of LaRue. The Atkinson boy had his left arm and shoulder and left leg sprained and Captain McCardle received bruises.

Captain McCardle, his children, who range in ages from eleven to sixteen years, and the Atkinson boy, who is about seventeen, were enroute to Mt. Victory to assist in an open-air meeting which opened the Salvation army tent meeting there, Wednesday evening.

About two miles east of LaRue there is a sharp curve in the road. The road is very narrow at that point and Mr. McCardle's machine upset when he went to make the turn. He was pinned underneath the car; the Atkinson boy's leg was fastened in the steering wheel, and Carrie and J. B. McCardle were caught in the car. Stella McCardle was able to get out of the car and went to a farm house for help. Her brother, not realizing that he was injured, went down the road and stopped an auto and asked for help. He later was taken quite sick.

The injured people was taken to a surgeon's office in LaRue and later brought to their home here in the Gunder ambulance.

The top of the machine and one wheel were broken.

RED CROSS SOCIETY FIRST WORK MEETING

Women Are Asked To Assist. Meeting Yesterday.

The Red Cross society held its first work meeting of the season at the Red Cross room in the Y. M. C. A. building, Wednesday afternoon. The women took up the work left over from last season and busied themselves making children's garments. These will be used for local charity.

The meeting yesterday was well attended and a much larger meeting is hoped for in two weeks, as the society expects to be kept pretty busy this season preparing for the winter. It is expected that many demands will be made on the local society this winter.

It is hoped that every woman in Marion who can help will feel it her duty to give some portion of her time to it and meet with the women once every two weeks, it was announced today.
